DESCRIPTION

This 2006 Nissan X-Trail i Columbia offers a practical choice for those seeking a reliable and capable vehicle. As a Columbia trim model, this SUV is powered by a 2.5 litre petrol engine that provides consistent performance for various driving conditions. The vehicle is equipped with a four wheel drive system, which enhances traction and stability on the road. This combination of engine size and drivetrain makes it a versatile option for drivers who need a dependable vehicle that can handle different terrains with ease.

The Columbia variant stands out due to its low insurance group, which makes it a more economical choice for many motorists compared to other similar SUVs in its class. By balancing the power of a 2.5 litre engine with the cost benefits of a lower insurance rating, this Nissan X-Trail provides a sensible solution for those who want the utility of a four wheel drive vehicle without the higher running costs often associated with larger engines. This thoughtful design ensures that owners can enjoy the benefits of a robust vehicle while maintaining manageable ownership expenses.
